

Card D - Wood suitable for Bio-Fuel

Hazel and Willow are types of tree that are ideal for using in heating systems to produce heating..

They grow quickly and once enough trees have been planted they can be cut for wood – and will re-grow new wood very quickly.

They grow well in the United Kingdom and once dry produce a good fuel for burning.

Around 8 tonnes of Hazel or Willow are needed to heat a two bedroom house for a year.

